

are you really gone
or is this a sick joke are you just fooling around if so its ok you can come back now no we can't believe it you weren't showing any signs we all wish we had listened a little closer

you were a great man a genius to say the least a lover of the finer things in life a true gentleman if i had ever met one

oh that crazy laugh and smile and how you never let anybody ever

brother where ever you are
hope your at peace now we'll all miss you man

the hole that you left behind can't be filled its a fucking waste why didn't you reach out you stubborn fool

we would of all come running and caught you when you fell so we send you all our love know that you'll be watching over us and now you've passed on to the other

you can tell us how it is we'd be grateful if you wrote it in the sand

hope that your at peace we all love you man

we all know its a crying shame another wasted life come now don't blame yourself whats done is done nothin we can do but learn to accept and remember to live
