

i was sure you would leave me i set myself up to loosing you and you made it possible for me to doubt our love you let me know you didn't love me not like i did or you would of fought like i did but you don't love me

i should of known better but baby I'm a fool fool for loving you fool for you
should of got out when i had the chance but baby I'm your fool
fool for loving you
fool for you
fool for you

now i wonder this big old world lost and wounded and angry at every woman cause there's no one like you babe i don't if i've lost my mind but baby girl i just can't seem to let you go

I'm a fool fool for loving you
fool for you

fool for loving you
fool for you
