

(a song written from the perspective of the big business and people in power)

ive got you know you cant get away
i'll tie you up in chains make life a living hell i'll make your nightmares true i'll make you crazy mad you've never been until your dying days until your dying days

and im not going to let you get away from me no im not going to let you get away from me i'll open your eyes i'll make you wish your blind i'll control your mind i'll steal your soul and all make you feel guilty i'll rip your tongue out i'lla make you thing i am everything
